Storyboard

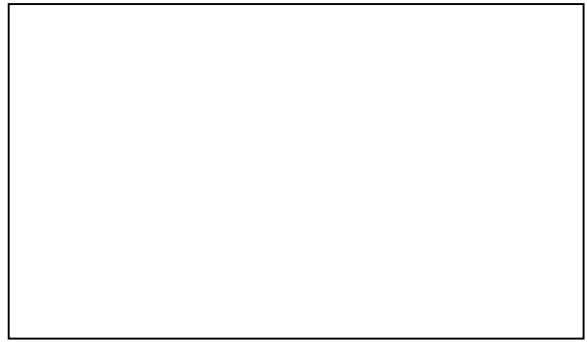

A storyboard is a bit like a comic strip. It is a visual representation of the key actions within a film/television show/television commercial. Look at the example below. You will notice that it has:

- ✓ Individual pictures of the key scenes
- ✓ A brief description of the action in each shot
- ✓ Different camera shots

On the following blank storyboard, you should pick your favourite film/television series/commercial, and turn it into a storyboard. Remember to provide a brief description of the key scenes below. 😊

Thankfully, the majority of us can stay in contact through social media and video calling. Let's be honest though, we all miss our friends. We are going to write a letter to the friend that you are missing the most.

What do I need to remember to include?

- Thoughts and feelings;
- How you have been filling your days;
- Paragraphs;
- Questions for your friend to answer - hopefully they will write back to you; 😊
- What you are missing about being with your friend;
- Things that you would like to do with your friend(s) once lockdown is lifted
- Include pictures to brighten up your letter

Remember to structure your letter properly - your address goes in the top right-hand corner, and theirs goes above the start of the letter.

My 'Happy' Playlist.

You are going to make a Spotify playlist of the songs that bring a smile to your face and make you want to move your dancing feet.

Miss Mitchell's Spotify example:

1. 'Happy' by Pharrell Williams
2. 'Shiny Happy People' by R.E.M
3. 'Pretty Shiny People' by George Ezra
